November, 2020

Meet our Board of Directors: Natalie Bluestein

My husband Scott and I both grew up in Charleston and knew each other as children, but didn't re-connect until we lived in the same building in law school. We are both attorneys with busy practices, no children, and lots of pets! Currently, we have two English Springer Spaniels, Pippa and Paddington, and four cats, Edgar Allan Paw, Annabel Lee, Dear Prudence, and Vivi (for Vivien Leigh). Three of our four cats are adopted, Edgar from a kill shelter, Dear Prudence from the Charleston Animal Society, and Vivi from our vet's office, where her previous owner had abandoned her.

Scott grew up with female springer spaniels, all of them named Farrah Fawcett! Farrah III was my wedding gift to him, and Pippa is technically Farrah IV (but only on her paperwork). I grew up with Siamese cats, and we had three when we got married almost 23 years ago. Siamese have a way of running the house, and we have never had an issue with the dogs listening to them and doing whatever the cats tell them. Everyone gets along very well, except the dogs, who are siblings and sometimes really act like it!

Pippa and Paddington go with us to work every day, and they are excellent sources of therapeutic relief for our clients. They love being working dogs, and we have both had overwhelmingly positive response from clients about having dogs in the office.

Hallie Hill is such a special place, for animals and for the people who love them. I'm honored to be working with such a caring, committed Board, a passionate Director, and dedicated group of staff and volunteers.

Volunteer Spotlight

Mary Ellen Kyle

Mary Ellen Kyle has been a regular Monday volunteer for close to four years! She retired from MUSC as a physician, and has devoted her free time to volunteering not only at HHAS, but with Reading Partners. She enjoys playing bridge, gardening and racquet sports. Mary Ellen's love of animals has been lifelong. She was known as "Dr. Doolittle" among her neighborhood friends when she lived in Philadelphia. Mary Ellen enjoys traveling with her husband and spending time with her three daughters and their families. We are so fortunate to have her at Hallie Hill. Thank you Mary Ellen for your dedication

We are so grateful to all of our supporters, volunteers and adopters, in this month of thankfulness, and every month of the year! The generous gifts of your time, resources and love are so appreciated, and allow us to continue our very important mission of rewriting the future of each special animal in our care!

Happy Thanksgiving from our Hallie Hill family, to yours!

How Your Behavior Influences Your Dog!

Analysis by Dr. Karen Shaw Becker

STORY AT-A-GLANCE

The results of recent research at the DogStudies Lab at the Max Planck Institute suggest owner behavior has a huge influence on how well dogs perform on a “showing” task.

Interestingly, the more encouraging the owner, the harder the dog tries, but the less successful he or she is at completing the task.

Owner enthusiasm seems to prompt a “ready to obey” attitude in the dog that increases the dog’s effort, but decreases his or her accuracy.

The more scientists discover about the brains of domesticated dogs, the more we understand about how similar they are to us; recent scientific discoveries indicate that our dogs feel empathy just as we do, and unlike all other non-primates, they make eye contact with us.

Also, your dog loves the way you smell, she’s able to follow your finger when you point at something and she reacts similar to voices and the emotion in voices similar to the way you do.

Whereas communication history and "the principle of least effort" play a predominant role in human communications, dogs' communications are highly influenced by their owners, according to researchers at the Max Planck Institute (MPI) for the Science of Human History and Friedrich Schiller University in Jena, Germany.¹

4 Harmful Thanksgiving Foods for Pets

Thanksgiving is a time of gratitude—and indulgence. With all the extra food and chaos this time of year, it's important to be prepared to treat pets for common foods served around the holidays. Here are some helpful tips from the ASPCA Animal Poison Control Center for diagnosis and treatment of common Thanksgiving pet poisons.

Onions and garlic: These common vegetables are prevalent in holiday casseroles, stuffing, mashed potatoes and many other items, and can be toxic to pets. They belong to the Allium family and can cause oxidative damage to the red blood cells in cats and dogs, leading to anemia and methemoglobinemia. Cats are much more sensitive than dogs—it takes roughly half the amount of garlic to cause hemolytic anemia in a cat compared to a dog. Inducing emesis may be necessary if a patient has ingested a large amount of onions or garlic—and it's important to be ready to give a dose of activated charcoal and monitor a CBC for five days. If the patient develops hemolytic anemia, IV fluids, antioxidants and, on rare occasions, blood transfusions may be needed.

Animal bones: Cooked animal bones tend to splinter, so there is risk for esophageal damage if emesis is induced. Therefore, it is recommended to increase the fiber in the patient's diet and monitor the passage of bones through the gastrointestinal tract. If a foreign body does develop, surgery may be required.

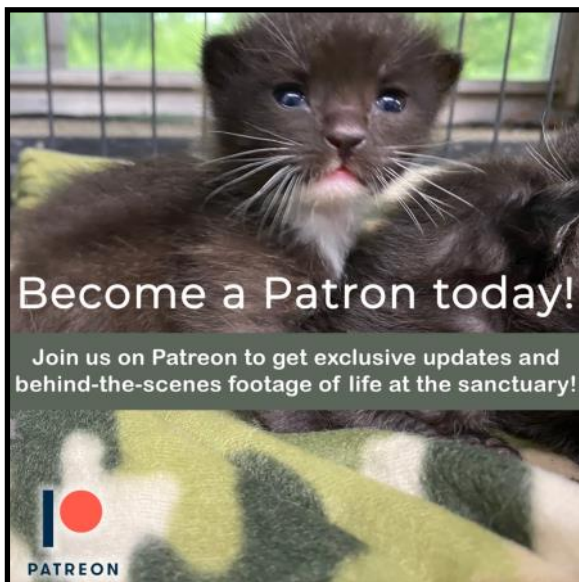

Bouillon: Many people use bouillon cubes when making stocks, gravy and other items. Bouillon contains a very high amount of sodium and ingestion of these cubes may lead to hypernatremia. Signs of hypernatremia include gastrointestinal upset, polydipsia, ataxia, tremors and seizures. If untreated, these patients can develop cerebral edema that can be fatal. If a patient is hypernatremic, it's important to reduce the sodium level quickly if the hypernatremia has developed within the last 24 hours. Intravenous fluid therapy, oral water and water enemas are all helpful in bringing down the sodium level. Charcoal is contraindicated in these patients because it can cause the sodium level to rise even more. Electrolytes will need to be monitored closely and treatment should continue until the sodium level is mid-range normal.

Baked goods: Pumpkin pie with whipped cream and apple pie with ice cream are all classics during this time of year and can lead to pancreatitis if ingested. Treatment is typically symptomatic and supportive with these patients. Baked goods made with xylitol can cause hypoglycemia, possibly resulting in liver failure. If the patient was exposed to xylitol, carefully monitoring blood glucose levels is key. If the patient ingested a hepatotoxic dose of xylitol, be sure to monitor liver values and start dextrose and liver protection. With elevated liver values, there is an increased risk for coagulopathy, so clotting times should also be monitored.

Call the ASPCA Animal Poison Control Center at 888-426-4435 for additional assistance anytime, 24/7.

About the Artist: DONNA GAMBLE

"Like many people from the Northeast, it only took one trip here to the Lowcountry of South Carolina to become hooked! Our family consists of three rescues, a bloodhound mix, a blue tick coonhound and our newest member from Hallie Hill, a Staffordshire Terrier named Chico! All three have unique personalities and are a tight pack that keep track of each other. We are strong advocates of dog safety and wellness and letting them shine in their own light! Our Bloodhound does search and rescue work, our blue tick joins in the search and rescue training, as does our Terrier but his passion is swimming in the Atlantic (equipped with his life jacket). I have tremendous admiration for the volunteers' devotion and good works that make Hallie Hill a success, and wanted to contribute." Hallie Hill thanks Donna for the beautiful quilt and her devotion to HHAS!

November's Adorable Adoptables!

Go to halliehill.com and fill out an application to come out to HHAS to meet these wonderful animals!

Lenox

Meet Lenox! This adorable, sweet little boy is 5 months old and was found under propane tanks at a local gas station. He was riddled with fleas and malnourished, but is now doing great! Lenox has a curious, playful personality and loves attention from his humans! He is ready to love you and make you laugh in your home, his 'fur-ever' home! Don't miss out on the amazing little boy - he will go home quickly!

Ilene

Ilene (10 years old) is a petite girl who is sweet as can be. She gets very excited when offered a treat, and will pounce around with joy. Ilene had an injury to her eye, but that is all behind her now! She is currently with a foster family (with other dogs) and has learned the skills she needs to be a wonderful member of your family! She is ready to find a home to live out her golden years. Will you adopt this sweet pup?

Nola

Nola is a sweet natured 14 year old terrier mix who is just a doll! She was our featured pup in Hallie's October media appearances! She gets along with people of all ages, and dogs as well! She is very curious and likes to be sitting on your feet or in your lap! She is a bit hard of hearing and would prefer to be in a home where she won't have to go all day without getting a potty break. This sweet senior would love a new family to call her own.

Abby

Our 5 year old Abby is a beautiful dog who is a bit nervous with new people. For this reason, she would like to be in a home without small children, and where there won't be strangers frequently coming in and out of the house. This girl is waiting to find a family to warm up to and trust. With just a little time and patience this sweet girl will be the family member you have been waiting for! You need her as much as she needs you!!
