The Hallie Hill Howler

We know how stressful it can be when your pet becomes ill or suffers an injury. It helps to have a knowledgeable veterinarian you trust with their care. Preventive care is also important, so we urge people not to wait until your pet is sick to find a good veterinarian. We are lucky to have so many wonderful veterinarians in Charleston and surrounding areas. We are often asked who we use to provide care for the animals residing at the sanctuary. The answer is many different vets! Hallie Hill has always used West Ashley Veterinary Clinic for routine care like exams, bloodwork, and other diagnostics. They have a team of knowledgeable doctors and staff that use fear free techniques to make the visits less stressful for our animals. For low-cost spay/neuter, Dr. Lucy Fuller and her team at the Charleston Animal

Society are top-rated. When any of our cats and dogs have problems with their eyes, we take them to Animal Eye Care of the Lowcountry and they are amazing! When our animals need to be treated for heartworm disease, we use the awesome Dr. Kelli Klein at Olde Towne Veterinary Clinic in downtown Charleston. We have even had several animals who needed to see a cardiologist and were fortunate to be treated by Dr. Jake Jacobson at Charleston Veterinary Cardiology. Blue Pearl and Charleston Veterinary Referral Center also have amazing emergency care doctors, internal medicine specialists, and surgeons. There are just too many to list! Thank goodness we have so many skilled and experienced veterinarians here in the lowcountry to help us keep our animals healthy and happy!

Dr. Kelli Klein (left) of Olde Towne Veterinary Clinic donated her time to vaccinate many cats at the recent NO KILL South Carolina 2024 Vax-a-palooza.

Larry, Nana, Porter, and Bruno recently took a ride to West Ashley Veterinary Clinic for vaccines!

Dr. Brent Lerma and his team at Goose Creek Vet have donated time and resources to administer heartworm prevention to the many dogs of HH.

Volunteer Spotlight

Madison Frazier

Madison Frazier was born and raised in Asheville, NC but spent time visiting Charleston each summer as a child. She attended Brevard College for a Business & Organizational Leadership degree and currently works full time with an ad agency. Madison enjoys hiking, camping and being outdoors, but also enjoys reading, baking sweets, painting, and dancing to 60's and 70's rock and roll! We are fortunate to have Madison volunteer her time feeding, and playing with the cats at the sanctuary and working hard to keep their enclosure clean and cozy. Madison says her dream is to one day work with conservation and wildlife to make a bigger difference for our world. She already makes a tremendous difference in the lives of the approximately 50 domestic cats residing at Hallie Hill. We are so lucky to have her!

Are you running the bridge on April 1? Would you consider helping raise money for the animals of Hallie Hill? We would LOVE your support!

About Hallie Hill:

Hallie Hill Animal Sanctuary is a 501c3 that provides a safe haven for animals with no other home or shelter. We prepare animals for adoption by providing respite, rehabilitation, and socialization. For those animals whose chances of adoption are reduced due to age, medical or emotional issues, Hallie Hill provides a loving Forever Home with the proper shelter, nutrition, and medical care. Hallie Hill helps Charleston to achieve the status of a No-Kill Community by working with local shelters and rescues to take in dogs that might not get adopted due to age, medical or behavioral issues. We can't change an animal's past, but we can rewrite their future.

How Hallie Hill Animal Sanctuary Stores Food for Hundreds Of Furry Residents

Down a modest gravel road less than an hour from Charleston, South Carolina, you will find Hallie Hill Animal Sanctuary, a loving and compassionate home for all creatures great and small. Well, almost all...

Nestled under live oaks and Spanish Moss, the non-profit sanctuary cares for, houses and rehabilitates animals that have been neglected, abused or seeking end-of-life serenity. We recently had the pleasure of visiting with Jennifer Middleton, Hallie Hill's executive director, and some of her 200 furry residents to discuss her former life as a teacher, the group's recent addition to the farm (a 20-foot decommissioned container) ... and rats.

More on the rats in a minute. As for Hallie Hill, founded by Helen Bradham nearly thirty years ago the non-profit shelter sits on 30 acres of land. Well-constructed canine cabins with large dog runs, cat shelters and kitty compounds, and now a 20-foot Eveon container are strategically placed throughout the property.

Hallie Hill welcomes pets and strays in all life stages and works closely with regional rescue shelters to take in dogs and cats that might not get adopted due to age or behavioral issues. While roughly 80 percent of Hallie Hill animals will call the sanctuary their forever home due to various reasons, 20 percent are up for adoption by appointment.

"If you are looking for a 'perfect' pet, we're probably not for you," Middleton says, "but if you believe in second chances, we welcome visitors and those interested in adoption. We can't change an animal's past at Hallie Hill Animal Sanctuary, but we can rewrite their future."

In 2022, 407 dogs and cats received food, shelter and medical care at the sanctuary; 142 animals got adopted. That same year Hallie Hill went through 43,800 pounds of dog food (roughly 190 bags a month) and 3,650 pounds of cat food.

While it appeared, non-rodent misfits were always welcome on the farm, thanks to the impressive amount of pet food in the barn, staff had been battling a rodent issue. Rats and country mice were eating through wood, barn walls, and plastic bins and bags to get to the expensive kibble and medicine.

THE CAT CORNER

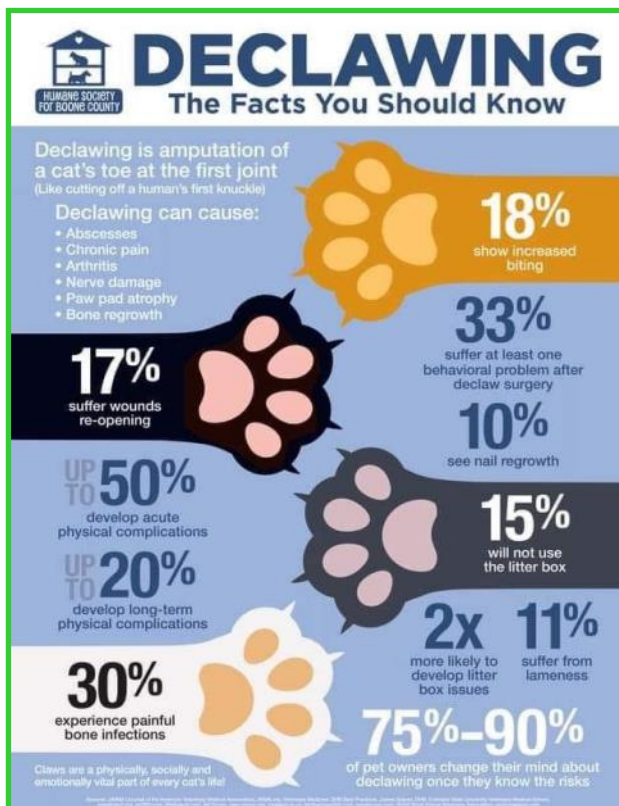

Identifying Common Cat Sounds And What They Mean

Did you know that next to birds, cats have the widest range of vocalizations of any domestic pet? They're capable of making over 100 different sounds, and every one of those utterances means something different. You'll never hear your cat ask for more treats or tell you to back off in words that you understand, but that doesn't mean they're not talking to you.

A cat's ability to make different sounds is a key part in how they communicate with humans and other animals. A meow is never just a meow. And purring might not mean what you think it means. Here we break down a few common cat sounds to give you a better idea of what your talkative feline is trying to say.

Hallie Hill believes in the Five Freedoms

- 1. Freedom from hunger and thirst
by ready access to fresh water and diet to maintain health and vigor
- 2. Freedom from discomfort
by providing an appropriate environment including shelter and a comfortable resting area.
- 3. Freedom from pain, injury or disease
by prevention or rapid diagnosis and treatment
- 4. Freedom to express normal behavior
by providing sufficient space, proper facilities and company of the animal's own kind
- 5. Freedom from fear and distress
by ensuring conditions and treatment which avoid mental suffering

March's Adorable Adoptables!

Go to halliehill.com and fill out an application to come out to HHAS to meet these wonderful animals!

Smokey

This handsome guy is 11 years young and is a beautiful hound mix. He is a sweet senior, very gentle and patient. He enjoys being with people and with other dogs as well! While he loves the outdoors, he would also love a soft bed on which to spend his nights!

Blue

Blue is a 4 year old puppy! She has lots of positive energy and will definitely make you smile with her antics! She is a people lover and will very willingly cuddle up next to you. So many wonderful traits—come meet her!

Dan

Little "Dan the Man" is deaf and blind but we think he sees shadows. He definitely knows you are there! We know the perfect compassionate adopter is out there who understands his needs and will love him unconditionally! He has a lot of love to give!

Dunk

This black furred beauty is almost two years old and want to be in a loving home so badly! Black cats are adopted less frequently than other cats, and that is not his fault! Will you give Dunk a chance to love you? You won't be sorry.

ARE YOUR KIDS & DOG SAFE? Let's "Stop The 77"

It's hard to believe that 77% of dog bites come from a family or friend's dog. That means that these aren't crazy, stray, vicious dogs - they are OUR pet dogs! While this is a really sad statistic, it does mean that WE can do something to CHANGE IT.

Contrary to popular belief, bites RARELY happen out of the blue — and your kids' actions can play a HUGE role in how safe they are around the dogs they love and live with. All too often, it's simply miscommunication. We expect dogs to read our likes and dislikes — but often have no idea how to read theirs.

Success is ALL about education — so are you ready for a FUN way for the whole family to learn!? Take advantage of the wonderful resources found at:

Ways to Help

Donate to the MAGIC Fund

MAGIC =
Medical And Geriatric Intensive Care

The MAGIC Fund is used to cover the many medical costs that arise at the sanctuary. New arrivals require vaccinations and spay/neuter surgeries. All of the 200 animals receive monthly heart worm and flea preventative. Many animals develop orthopedic or other health problems that require surgery. Hallie Hill also has many animals that require daily medications for everything from diabetes to arthritis. Many of the senior residents need more medical interventions as they age. Your donation to this fund helps to ensure the animals get the medical attention they need to live healthy, pain-free lives.

Gussie

"Shoutout for our Gussie's official/unofficial 12th birthday! He smiles when he goes for his daily car ride and loves a tummy scratch! (Who cares about having a waistline when you are a senior citizen!) We love our Gussie!"

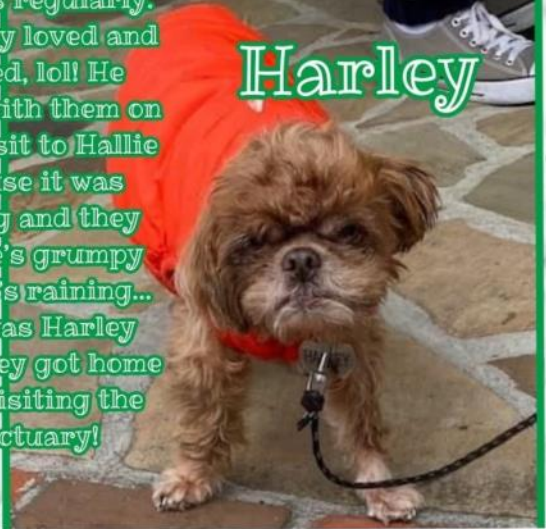

She's doing great in her new home with her sister, Basil.

Daisy (now Grits)

Harley is a picky guy and his taste changes regularly. He's very loved and spoiled, lol! He wasn't with them on their visit to Hallie because it was raining and they said he's grumpy when it's raining... This was Harley when they got home from visiting the sanctuary!

Harley

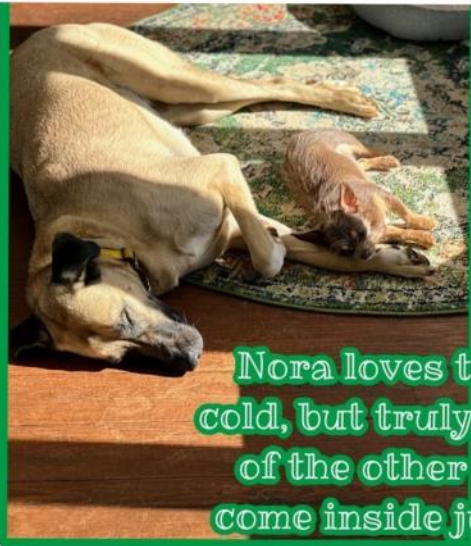

Nash

"Nash is doing good, he loves his new home. He gets fed a lot, and he even came to visit me at work to get him checked out by the vet. He's a whopping 56.7 pounds, he loves cuddles (a bed hog) He goes potty outside, doesn't really care for treats but loves when we celebrate him with excitement. He barks we didn't even know he had it in him, but he does. Everyone on base loves him, he is very social thinks everyone wants to pet him. He's extremely smart and loving. Oh, and he love, love, loves the dog park!!!"

WE LOVE OUR ADOPTERS!

ADOPTION PUPDATES

Arizona
(Now Nora)

Nora loves to be outside in the cold, but truly enjoys the company of the other two dogs. She will come inside just to try to get the others to follow her. And eventually gives up.

Toby

"Toby living his best life!"

Zoomi (now Zelda)

"She's doing so good! She's our magnet. Loves us all so much. I've lost 15 pounds from walking her daily 😊 we just started running together last week. She's incredibly smart. Very friendly. Makes us laugh every day. So so happy! She lives for snacks and chew toys!"

Chloe

"Chloe is adjusting well to her new home. She's very cuddly and loves to be petted. She actually been in my lap several the times 😊 She loves jumping on the windowsill and looking out especially at the birds."
